School board member responds

He didn't know his son's teaching salary was high

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Hancock County School Board Member Woodrow Ladner Tuesday said he did not realize his son, Daryl Ladner, was paid an excessive salary when he was apparently hired illegally as a Hancock North Central High School drafting teacher in March.

Ladner also reported he has 'never paid any attention to teacher salary schedules too much' which are approved by the board along with annual budgets.

The school board member said all other county school board members probably do not pay close attention to teacher salary scales either.

William Haddock, interim Hancock superintendent of education, in an Aug. 27 letter to the board, states Daryl Ladner was paid $5,700 at a rate of $17,000 per year plus seven years experience, but did not have a valid teaching certificate and contract before July 1.

In the Hancock district, teachers with a master's degree, college credits toward a doctorate degree and 13-14 years experience (AAA certificate) are qualified to receive salaries of about $17,000.

Haddock reports in the letter that Ladner now possesses an A certificate (equivalent to a bachelor's degree in education) and receives a salary of $14,787.

The teacher salary scale lists a maximum A certificate salary at $14,525 for 13-years experience.

Woodrow Ladner, in an interview Tuesday, reported his version of events which led to the hiring of his son.

He said the former drafting teacher who he thought possessed a AAA certificate and had 11-12 years experience, left the district in late December for a better-paying job.

Ladner said in mid-February the district had still not found a replacement teacher so Donald Hillman, HNC principal, asked the school board member if his son Doyle Ladner, Daryl's twin, would be interested in the position.

"I asked him (Hillman) about the salary, but I don't remember the amount," the school board member stated.

"Doyle was working for the City of Picayune and it wouldn't be worth it for him to quit that job," he said.

"Daryl was working for CMIC in Picayune which had cut back hours of its employees," Ladner reported.

Ladner said the drafting class was then supervised by a teacher aide who 'wasn't doing anything' except keeping order in the room.

"I asked Hillman if Daryl could come up and answer any questions the class had and help them in drafting (in mid-February)," he said.

"Daryl went up to the school on several occasions and helped the kids at no cost to the district—to help me and the kids out," the board member reported.

Ladner said CMIC then closed down at the end of February, so Hillman sent a recommendation to the school board asking that Daryl Ladner be hired as a teacher.

However, minutes of a Feb. 26 meeting show Ladner was approved by the board as a substitute teacher for the remainder of the school year in a motion by George Ladner which was seconded by Johnny Banks, both board members.

The minutes and district records indicate Hillman and Billy Sills, former superintendent, both recommended the board action.

Louie Ladner is listed as the only board member not attending the meeting and Woodrow Ladner is recorded as voting against the action.

The minutes of that meeting were unanimously accepted at a March 6 meeting in which Monvel Cuevas, board president, was the only absent board member.

At a March 12 meeting in which the same board members were present as the Feb. 26 meeting, Daryl Ladner was approved as drafting teacher for the remainder of the school year in a motion also offered by George Ladner and seconded by Banks.

That motion was listed as retroactive to March 11, but in the minutes states, "...the board accept 'the recommendation' to employ Daryl Ladner."

No recommendation from Hillman, as required by state law, is included in the minutes and Haddock Tuesday said no written recommendation from the principal or Sills can be found in district files.

Woodrow Ladner also voted against that board action.

The minutes of the March 12 meeting were approved by the entire board at a March 27 meeting.

An inspection of the minutes from meetings in early 1982 also found several variations in motions hiring teachers which Haddock said were the result of clerical errors.

Some motions for the hirings contained recommendations by principals and the superintendent, just by principals or in the June 8 hiring of teacher Rose Lyons the words 'the recommendation' were also used.

But Haddock checked district files and found Lyons' hiring was recommended by Hillman and Sills.

Regarding Daryl Ladner's hiring as a teacher, Haddock said the school board member's son did not sign a teaching contract until July 27 when records show Hillman and Sills did recommend the hiring.

"When I questioned Hillman about the hiring on Aug. 3, the principal said he wouldn't recommend Ladner until he had a teaching certificate," the interim superintendent stated.

Woodrow Ladner said in February after he and his son traveled to Jackson to meet with state officials regarding a teaching certificate that he thought a certificate could be obtained after Daryl Ladner had a physical examination.

"So Daryl got a physical and Hillman and Sills assumed the state would certify him," the board member stated.

"Sills and Hillman told me the state said to hire a teacher with an associate degree (which Daryl Ladner possesses) or a high school degree just as long as that person has two years experience," Ladner said.

"In the meantime, Hillman says he didn't recommend Daryl, but I know a letter came to the board," he stated.

"We had an English teacher who taught in the district two years ago who didn't have a certificate either," Ladner revealed.

Ladner said his son then received a letter from the state which reported Daryl Ladner lacked two years on-the-job experience needed for an A certificate.

The board member said his son's on-the-job experience exceeded two years, so they again journeyed to Jackson to meet with the State Vocational and Technical Training Commission which then granted a teaching certificate to Daryl Ladner.

Woodrow Ladner reported his son never falsified any district employment documents to lead school officials to believe he had more experience than he actually possessed.

The board member blamed Sills for not making sure Daryl Ladner had a certificate when he was hired in February, but said his son did not sign a contract in March due to a lack of certification.

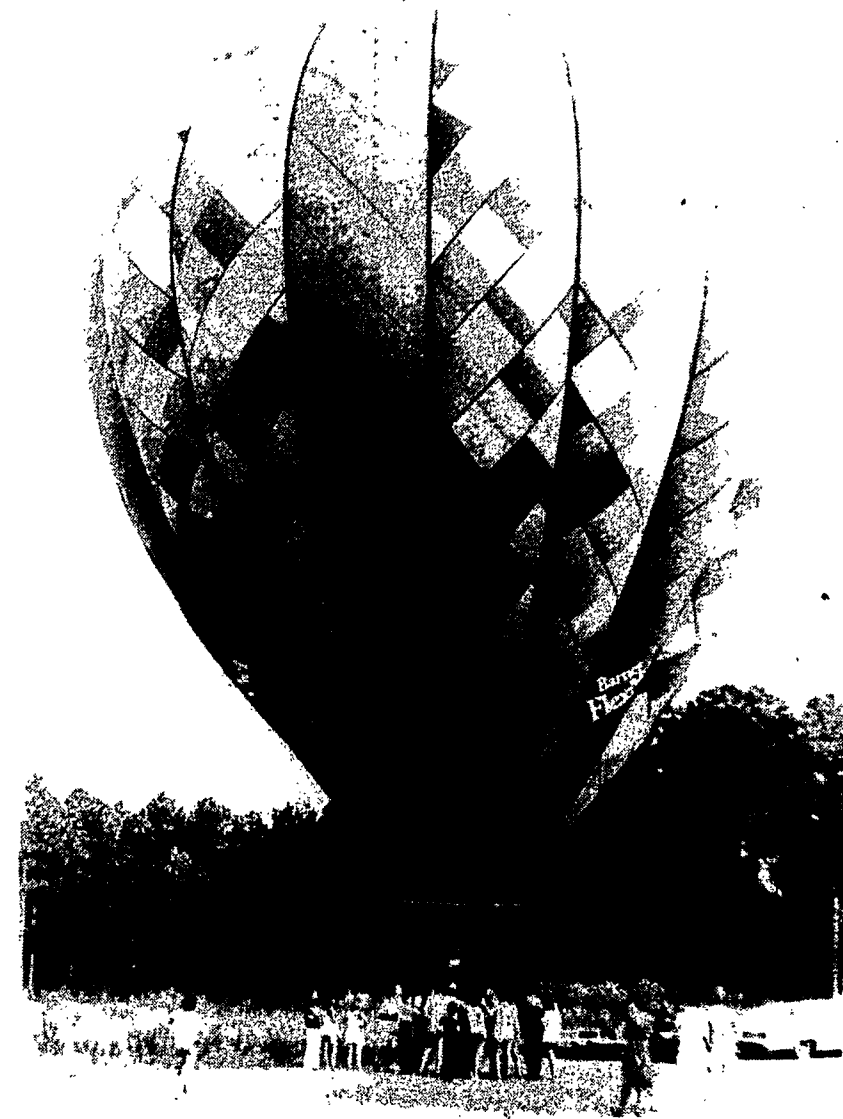

Woodrow Ladner said he did not know if his son would be required to pay back the amount overpaid to him in the last school year.

"The overpayment will be charged back to the district from the state," he reported.

Ladner said several local residents feel he secured an excessive and illegal salary for his son and stated, "How Sills figured the salary for Daryl, I have no idea."

The school board member said his son now has a certificate which is valid until June 30 and can be renewed if Daryl Ladner earns six-hours of credits toward a bachelor's degree.

"The only intent of hiring my son was to give those kids a teacher so the drafting course would be accredited," he added.

UNUSUAL SIGHT—A small crowd gathers at the field at N.A. (Nancy) Perniciaro and Son Wrecking Service in Waveland Saturday to watch this hot air balloon lift off. Frank Ellsworth of Biloxi, owner of the balloon, noted the flying contraption is inflated by a large portable fan. The air pumped inside the balloon is then heated by two tanks containing straight propane. The burners fire 22 million BTU's of heat and the heat gathered inside the balloon is enough to heat eight houses, he said. Ellsworth inflated the balloon while visiting friends in Waveland and then offered on-lookers the opportunity to ascend with him some 20 feet in the air. Ellsworth, who owns Key Rental in Biloxi, stated he sometimes uses the $17,000 balloon for advertising purposes and stated he would be willing to bring the balloon to any outdoor event in Hancock County. School post vote slated Saturday

Five candidates will be seeking the office of Hancock County Superintendent of Education in a special election to be held Saturday.

The candidates are Rogers James, Eugene E. Ladner, K.G. McCarty, Barney Necaise, and Terrell H. Randolph.

The polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 6 p.m., according to Hancock County Circuit Clerk Henry Otis.

Qualified electors living in the county school system are the only ones who will be eligible to vote.

The winner will fill the unexpired term of Billy Sills who was removed from office when he pled guilty to fraud-embezzlement following the repairs to Gulfview School which was damaged by a tornado in May, 1981.

If none of the five candidates receives a majority Saturday, a run-off will be held on Saturday, Sept. 25, Otis said.

INTERSTATE
UTILITY TAXES

To draw a bead on such a complex subject as state taxes on public utility facilities that stretch across county and state lines, it may be best to put the matter in the perspective of an elephant stalking across a jigsaw puzzle map of the United States the size of a kitchen.

If the elephant's tail were in Florida and its trunk in Pennsylvania, neither Florida nor Pennsylvania could tax the entire elephant, but only that proportionate share of the total animal abiding in or hovering over that particular state.

That essentially is how the Mississippi State Tax Commission goes about its behemoth task of annually assessing state taxes to be paid by the public utilities located wholly or in part within Mississippi.

Or so it seems, if this writer understands the concept following a visit with a high ranking state tax commission official the other day.

But instead of an elephantine approach, the tax folks call it a "system approach" utilizing, in their words, "school-taught, court-tested approaches to value."

The appraisal of public utility facilities differs from those of private businesses in one significant way. That is, the generating or transmission systems built, or stretched, or laid within a state, usually are not saleable on the market or are not adaptable for other uses. Hence they do not have the customary market values that are a major factor in determining property values.

This same philosophy applied to the elephant example gives rise to the notion that elephants don't often find themselves exchanged in local marketplaces, and hence their market value may belie their real cost in terms of how much it takes to produce the adult elephant from birth.

Thus the State Tax Commission looks to such factors as total cost of the facility in Mississippi as a proportionate cost of the total facility nationally. Then alongside this cost of the Mississippi portion of the whole, the tax folks would look at the capitalized income as shown on ledger sheets, and then at the market value of its stocks and bonds which mirror a fairly accurate picture of the monetary worth of the facility.

And just as an aging old elephant may suffer a declining value after marching tail-to-trunk through thousands of circus performances, so may these utilities dim in value with the passage of time. Hence their values are recomputed each year instead of set up on an annual depreciation schedule with the assumption that the facilities will degrade by a certain percent per annum.

What does affect depreciation rates for public utilities is a judgemental evaluation by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission that takes a hard look at the probable raw product supply of the utility.

If, for example, the utility had no guarantees that its raw materials would last more than 20 years, the federal agency would likely require that the facility be depreciated for its full value in perhaps 20 years. But if the raw material sources appears virtually unending, the annual depreciation would likely take a much smaller annual percentage rate.

All of this formulation takes into account the percent of profit sanctioned by the Public Utility Act of 1956 which protects and sustains public service companies.

ATTRIBUTE TO HUMIDITY

There's no better time to offer a tribute to humidity than these current hot, muggy days of mid-summer when the least of exercise causes perspiration to flow and we are wont to long for less humid climates.

Humidity, uncomfortable as it may be at present in the Mississippi air, nevertheless is an accurate indicator of this state's enviable position in a geographic zone on earth where the water supply is among the world's best.

In an era of expanding populations, lowering water tables, shrinking irrigation water reserves, and saline residues in some irrigated fields, Mississippi has scarcely an equal when it comes to being in the right place at the right time in order to profit in the future from this key resource.

Mississippi receives an average annual rainfall of 50 or more inches while the U.S. average is only about 30, and some western states do well to get only ten inches of annual rainfall. Consider this the next time you tend to grumble about the humidity. But consider more.

Worldwide, 97 percent of the surface water is salty and unfit to drink or use on crops. Of the remaining readily usable three percent, three-fourths of it is frozen beyond use in glaciers and ice caps. If the frozen freshwater were to thaw, it would be equivalent to the volume of water flowing in all the world's rivers for a period of 1,000 years, according to scientists.

Still aggravated over mugginess?

Consider our human dependency on fresh water. The body is 65 percent water and requires a daily input of 2½ gallons just for survival. If a human goes more than a week without water he dies a most painful death.

Modern civilization leans heavily on fresh water supplies. A loaf of bread requires 115 gallons for the production of wheat that was converted into flour. Even the Sunday newspaper required 150 gallons of water just to process wood pulp into newsprint required for one copy of the Sunday special. Moreover, it takes 270 tons of water to make a ton of steel, and ten gallons to refine just one gallon of gasoline — or beer.

Industries utilize the largest share, 52 percent, of the nation's fresh water supply. Agricultural irrigation accounts for 41 percent. But before it got used at all, 70 percent of the rain, sleet and snow evaporated back into the air as humidity without anyone getting a shot at or of it.

A one-acre cornfield creates 4,000 gallons of evaporated moisture or humidity daily as nature recycles her most precious resource.

In areas where fresh water is critically scarce, civilizations have compromised with conditions. Many Texas communities water lawns today with treated sewage water, and the Extension Service in Massachusetts already has published guidelines for utilizing this "grey water" as it is called. In Santee, California, people already are swimming and fishing in lakes of purified sewage water. Yecht, you say?

In the western U.S., irrigation water already is far less in supply than demand. And below the border there, Mexico's relations with the U.S. suffer continually as Mexicans gripe that U.S. farmers and industrialists are hogging the flow of the Colorado River, reducing it to but a comparative trickle below the border. Thus, water sovereignty is here to stay as a problem to foment more strife in the future.

Modern desalting plants are in operation in hundreds of arid, seaside locations in the world today, yet the cost of processing saltwater is about three times higher than direct pumping of freshwater from surface or ground water sources when these are available.

The three most important methods of desalting are: through evaporation and condensation utilizing either fuels or solar energy, through electrolysis, and through freezing.

So humidity notwithstanding, Mississippi is very fortunate — especially economically — to be bounded by the Mississippi River, Ten-Tom Waterway, and Gulf of Mexico, with her interior generously laced with other rivers, creeks, lakes, ponds, and thousands of acres of so-called wetlands. And best of all, to have these regularly recharged with over 50 inches of annual rainfall.

Temporary water pressure drop to occur in Waveland

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Waveland residents will experience a 24-36-hour water pressure drop on a Tuesday or Wednesday sometime this month.
The reason for the pressure reduction is to allow installation of pipeline hardware on a city well which will hook up to a water main that will run to a water tower to be built near US-90.
The water system improvement will boost pressure for highway businesses.
William Bertschinger, an engineer of Lewis-Eaton Partnership of Jackson, informed the Waveland Board of Aldermen Tuesday night of the temporary well shutdown.
He also noted the shutdown period is also needed to sterilize water lines in compliance with State Health Department requirements.
The engineer reported the contractor will utilize two crews to speed the work.
Bertschinger said the contractors are ready to proceed, but are awaiting the city leader's decision on a day to perform the work and advertisements to notify residents in advance.
He said Waveland residents would experience water pressure reductions during the work period and should limit water consumption at that time.
Mayor John Longo recommended a Tuesday or Wednesday shutdown sometime before November when extremely cold temperatures are expected.
Barbara Rappold, city clerk and an alderman, said the date of the pressure drop will be advertised in The Sea Coast Echo.

Regarding other Waveland water system improvements, Ray Eaton of the Jackson partnership said excess funds from the US-90 water improvement project should allow the city to upgrade water service in small projects citywide.
Eaton recommended the leaders consider enlarging water mains with the installation of eight-inch pipes along Beach Boulevard from the Bay St. Louis-Waveland city limits to Terrace Avenue and replacing an eight-inch line on Oak Street with a 10-inch pipe to tie in with a Beach line.
He also suggested placing a larger eight-inch line from Coleman Avenue underneath the railroad tracks to Jeff Davis Avenue and 10-inch line on Herlihy Street to serve a proposed subdivision in that area.
Eaton said the improvements would improve water pressure citywide and provide a water system to serve city growth "for many years to come."
But Longo suggested replacing two-inch lines on Farrar Street.
Eaton said the Farrar pipe should be replaced with a six-inch line to allow fire hydrant installation.
Rappold suggested small lines along Broad and South Streets and Sears Avenue be replaced with larger pipe.
In reference to the proposed city animal shelter, the aldermen authorized advertising bid specifications for construction of the facility.

The aldermen received bids at a previous meeting, but after contractors cited that specifications at the time were too vague the leaders rejected those quotations and authorized Lewis Eaton to prepare construction details.
Eaton presented the specifications Tuesday night for the concrete block facility which will be located near Central Station and the city sewage plant.
In other business at the 7:30 p.m. regular meeting at City Hall, the aldermen:
—Authorized a $75 advertisement in the State Firefighters Association magazine and $25 advertisement each in the Necaise Crossing Gumbo program and Bay Senior High School yearbook;
—Authorized a $340 gas line leak survey for the Coleman Avenue business district area;
—Took under advisement five bids for various equipment and interior furnishings for the Waveland Library which is now being renovated and enlarged; —Heard a report from Eaton that his firm has submitted a proposal to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development to secure a $400,000 grant to reroof the Civic Center, construct a senior citizen's facility and improve sewerage;
—Heard a report from Eaton that HUD funds will soon be available for Middletown Rehabilitation Project water, sewer and housing improvements on Amar Street.

AIRMAN HANNAH
Airman First Class Stephen M. Hannah, son of Margret C. McIntosh of 1104 Dicks St., Waveland, has participated in an Air Force Strategic Air Command (SAC) exercise called Global Shield 82.
Hannah, a protective coating specialist with the 3902nd Civil Engineering Squadron, Offutt Air Force Base, Neb., joined others from all SAC units in the United States and selected Air Force Reserve and Air National Guard units to take part in command post and field training exercises.
Global Shield 82 was the fourth such exercise held by the command in as many years.
It was designed to enhance readiness and the ability of the command to carry out orders which support U.S. national policy, should deterrence fail.
Components of the U.S. Navy and Marine Corps, as well as elements of the Canadian forces, also participated in the exercise.
His wife, Renee, is the daughter of Gene Morgan of 463 Annette Lane, Biloxi.
MATE STANBRO
Coast Guard Boatswain's Mate Second Class James C. Stanbro, son of Mr. and Mrs. N.L. Stanbro of 1 Fox Run, Pass Christian, has reported for duty at the U.S. Coast Guard Base, San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Wetlands construction permit rules relaxed

NEW RULES FOR PERMITS
The Army Corps of Engineers has issued revised rules governing the issuance of Corps permits for construction and related activities which would affect marsh type areas and shallow and navigable waters.
The rules are aimed at reducing the time required to obtain a permit where one is needed and, in many cases, eliminating previous requirements to obtain a permit.

The Corps Mobile District is presently operating under the new rules which went into effect in late July.
The Corps said the changes in its regulatory program are a streamlining process and not a change in its environmental protection policies.
A key provision of the new policies is the creation of a number of so-called "nation-wide permits." Under this approach if the construction to be undertaken meets certain conditions which are established on a nationwide basis, a permit is not needed.

While the rules do not do away with any state permit requirements, they do make it simpler to comply with Federal regulations, Mobile District officials said.
They believe that the new rules will be especially helpful in cases where permits have been issued by state or other Federal agencies or where the activity to be undertaken is fairly limited in scope.

The Mobile District said persons who plan construction including dredging and filling in an area where wetland areas or rivers and streams might be involved or in some way affected should contact the District's Regulatory Functions Branch as a safeguard rather than assuming they are covered by the new rules.

Construction in such areas is limited by several Federal laws which require that a permit be obtained before the construction can commence.

Bits 'n pieces

We are in hopes there will be a large turn-out of the qualified electors living in the Hancock County School District Saturday.

A special election for the important office of superintendent of education is to be filled, or possibly two candidates chosen for a later run-off if no one receives a majority of votes.

The education of our children is very important, so we hope you will encourage your neighbors and friends to get out and vote.

If you know someone who is qualified to vote and may need transportation, take them to the polls.

We have noted over the years how many people complain about the political leaders, but, some never take the time to vote.

Let's have a large turnout.

Friday night will be the second week of high school football in the area.

There were some thrillers last Friday night, especially the two games in Bay St. Louis.

The Bay High Tigers won a close one on the score board, yet out-played the Stone County Tomcats in statistics.

The Hancock North Central Hawks out-scored the Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws in an offensive surge by both squads.

Bay High will again be home this week when they try to clip the sails of the Pass Christian Pirates.

The Pirates last week were handcuffed by the Vancleave Bulldogs and are hungry for a victory. Bay High may be in for a surprise if they think the Pirates will be easy because Vancleave is always a strong contender.

The Hawks will tangle with Forrest County AHS, who always seem to be up for Hancock.

Both squads are usually equal in talent and the breaks usually decide the victory with the Hawks and Forrest County.

The young Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will try to get on the winning track when they host Pearl River Central Friday.

The Rocks were able to put points on the scoreboard last week, but they let the opposition score more than they were able too.

We hope every football fan will go out Friday night and support their favorite team.

The games were good last Friday, and the action should be better this week.

Hope to see you at the game!

We saw the members of American Legion Post No. 77's Boy Scout Troop out placing the many state and American Flags on Coleman Avenue Labor Day.

It is good to see the flags being flown and we hope this practice will encourage all Americans to show respect for our flag.

Too many people have forgotten the meaning of patriotism.

We feel there were not as many people over for the Labor Day weekend as we have seen in previous years.

We do know there was a tremendous crowd for the Fireworks Extravaganza Sunday night in Waveland.

Cars were parked almost all the way to Nicholson Avenue and many barn fires were visible.

There even was a group trying to compete with the 'pros' on the fireworks display at Coleman Avenue.

We have mentioned the Waveland Civic Association as being the sponsors for the fireworks display through the co-operation of the Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland and the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, and we thank them all.

A group we have not mentioned are the members of the Waveland Fire Department who have for years been the persons in charge of setting-off the fireworks.

These firefighters including Chief Don McIntyre and Assistant Chief Gerald Price and members of the department give-up their free time in order for everyone to enjoy the many firework displays.

So we should also express our thanks to these fine men who seem to be forgotten at times.

We know one place that was really 'over-booked' Saturday night, and that was the Hancock County Jail. Sunday morning there was a total of 40 persons lodged at the facility.

As most of you know, the facility was constructed to house less than 20 persons.

With so much business at the facility, it looks like our Hancock County Board of Supervisors would provide more room at the 'Hancock Hilton.'

There are supposed to be studies being made on the possibility of a new jail, and we think it has been going on for several years.

Efforts should be pushed for a new jail in Hancock County.

The present facility is obsolete, out-dated and over-booked.

WATER PROBLEMS—Jack Mohr, 113 Ballentine St., Bay St. Louis reports there has been a leak on and off for almost seven years in front of his property. He said the leak has increased in the past several weeks even though the city has tried several times over the years to repair the line. A sign erected on the utility pole states, "Waterfront Property, courtesy of City of Bay St. Louis, no fishing". Mohr is hoping the leak will be permanently repaired by the city, but has been advised on a recent inquiry that Main Street was now on a priority basis. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

The People's business

FOREIGN TRADE IN THE UNITED STATES

It seems as though an increasing number of American businesses are taking their complaints to the U.S. International Trade Commission over alleged unfair trade practices by foreign competitors.

The trade commission is the place where grievances are aired over possible illegal advantages that foreign companies have over American companies. For example, the American steel industry has complained in recent years about foreign steel producers who sell foreign-made steel in the U.S. at prices even below what it cost them to make. This is what is generally described as "dumping."

U.S. business complaints have gone beyond steel to include other durable goods and certain food products. In many cases, American business complains that the foreign competitor received some form of assistance from their government in producing the goods in question. That way, U.S. businesses contend, the foreign company can sell products at a cost substantially below what the production cost would have been in the United States without the government assistance.

It's not surprising that foreign companies would want to gain a slice of the American market, the most dynamic market place in the world. And many foreign-made products sold in the U.S. are produced without assistance from their governments.

But here are some foreign companies who get a share of U.S. business because of advantages they have back home. The Mississippi Economic Council supports those U.S. policies which prohibit unfair trade practices by foreign competition. The American free enterprise system provides a free market place for both U.S. and foreign producers and neither should be permitted to take unfair advantages over their competitors.

UNDERSTANDING THE U.S. ECONOMY

It won't be known for sometime if the recent downward movement in interest rates will be lasting. Borrowing costs for too long have been too high. It has been virtually impossible for a business to turn a profit after paying interest in the 18 percent range.

These borrowing costs have affected consumer borrowing as well. The costs of buying homes, automobiles, and other credit-oriented staples have placed these purchases out of reach of many consumers.

If interest rates continue to fall and become within reach of the business and consumer borrowers, it is hoped that the long-awaited economic recovery will begin in earnest.

Understanding how the U.S. economy works is difficult, even for the most qualified economist. In other countries where the government runs the economy, it is not hard to see economics at work. In those socialized nations, the government simply sets prices and wages at rigid levels, regardless of what the citizenry may feel about them.

In America, the economic system is not as simple. Despite a substantial amount of government influence over the economy, our free enterprise system remains exactly that. We have the opportunity to participate in the free market.

Our economy might move in unpredictable, even sometimes mysterious, ways. Hopefully, this latest indication of a healthy business climate will be lasting and the ills which for months have plagued us will be cured.

The Mississippi Economic Council's American Enterprise Center is making strides in helping our educators and students understand the ways of the U.S. economy. And in doing so, it hopefully will strengthen economic understanding of future generations of Americans.

DOING MORE WITH LESS

A recent tax study estimated that government spending at all levels is expected to reach nearly $1.2 trillion in the current fiscal year. This includes spending at the federal, state and local levels of government.

The study, by the Tax Foundation, said it estimates that federal, state, and local government spending will be about $5,138 for each man, woman, and child residing in the United States in fiscal 1982.

On a per capita basis, government expenditures nearly doubled during the period from 1975 onward; in 1975 per capita spending was $2,612, and the 1982 estimate of $5,138 is a 97 percent increase.

Such increases in government spending at all levels can only tend to weaken the underlying foundation of the American economic system. For as governments spend more, they must take more from business and from individuals.

NEWS FROM THE GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Gov. William Winter has announced that an estimated 150,000 Mississippi families will be provided with cheese and butter during the fourth week of October in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Donated Commodity Program.

The accumulation of millions of pounds of American-processed cheese as a result of federal price supports led the government to donate 100 million pounds of cheese nationwide through the program last December.

Two previous allocations of cheese, totalling 1.1 million pounds and available only to food stamp recipients, were distributed during February and March to approximately 177,000 individuals.

The October allocation, valued at $2.25 million, will include 772,800 pounds of cheese and, for the first time, 307,200 pounds of butter. There is a possibility that non-fat dried milk also will be available, but this is yet to be determined.

Food stamp recipients will be joined in the fall by Medicaid recipients and unemployed persons in qualifying for the five-pound block of cheese and two-pound block of butter.

According to Project Coordinator Buddy Jemison of the Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs, vouchers will be enclosed with Medicaid and unemployment compensation payments toward the end of September. Individuals receiving vouchers will be able to redeem them for the commodity packages on the distribution date at the sites determined by each county Board of Supervisors.

Previously, recipients were required to present their food stamp identification cards to welfare workers before receiving the cheese.

All of the October distribution will be on a first-come, first-served basis, said Jemison.

If any dairy products remain after vouchers have been redeemed, they will be donated to charities that serve meals, county jails, hospitals, schools and other institutions, charities for distribution to the needy and directly to needy individuals who did not receive vouchers.

Should the supply in a county be exhausted before vouchers have been honored, persons holding the vouchers will be given first priority on any further distributions.

Previous distribution efforts allowed for the cheese to be delivered to Camp Shelby, a National Guard training center near Hattiesburg, and picked up by the state's 10 planning and development districts. Inmates from the state penitentiary were used to load the cheese.

From Camp Shelby, portions of the cheese were trucked to distribution points in every county of the state where certification of recipients was conducted by county welfare officials.

In the new allocation, butter will be delivered to Camp Shelby first and picked up by students in the Department of Vocational Education Truck Driver Training Program. The butter will then be transported to each planning and development district in refrigerated trucks made available to the state by Dairyrien Incorporated.

The state's cheese allowance will be shipped directly to the planning and development district distribution points by the federal government. The planning and development districts have been placed in charge of all local coordination.

"This may be one of the most cost effective programs the state has ever run," said Jemison.

"Of course, the counties have had and will have to bear some expenses for things such as trucks and law enforcement," he said, "but, when you look at the total picture—the number of people helped, the amount of time it took to help them and the adjustments to Federalism—the benefits overshadow everything else."

Jemison said two-thirds of the eligible food stamp recipients took advantage of the program in February and March. The voucher system, he said, will make it possible to serve a wider variety of needy people with food stamp recipients being joined by Medicaid recipients and unemployed persons.

Under the new guidelines, Jemison said he expects the program to still serve 95 percent of Mississippi food stamp recipients.

WAITING FOR TIME TO FIRE—Members of the Waveland Fire Department were waiting for the set time Sunday night to start the annual Fireworks Extravaganza sponsored by the Waveland Civic Association through the co-operation of the Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland and the Hancock County Board of Supervisors. Waveland Fire Chief Don McIntyre is facing camera in white shirt. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

Power line issue brought to court

South Mississippi Residents for Orderly Development, has filed notice with Hinds County Chancery Court to appeal a recent Mississippi Public Service Commission ruling which allows construction of a 77-mile high voltage line across south Mississippi.

SMROD is a group of landowners and nearby residents who may be affected by Mississippi Power Company's plan to build the 500,000 volt line and have objected to its construction.

Since opening its challenge against the line, SMROD has vowed to carry its fight to the court system if the commission authorized the project, which it did earlier this summer.

No hearing date has been set for the case, which has been assigned to Chancellor Paul Alexander.

The utility is seeking to build the 500,000 volt line to sell power to Gulf States Utilities, which operates in Louisiana and Texas.

The line would run from the Plant Daniel generating facility in Jackson County across Harrison, Hancock and Pearl River counties to the Mississippi-Louisiana state line, where it would continue for 63 miles westward into Louisiana.

The commission approved the line's construction in late July after conducting three hearings in the case.

During the hearings, SMROD and several other parties objected to the utility's plans to erect the high-voltage line, complaining that Mississippi Power would be using the land for an out-of-state enterprise and that the commission has no jurisdiction over an interstate project.

Other objections to the line were possible medical hazards and devalued real estate prices, although Mississippi Power produced witnesses who testified that the line posed no safety threat.

After the hearings, the commission voted 2-1 to approve the line, with chairman Lynn Havens of Gulfport casting the opposing vote.

SMROD asked in August that the commission rehear the case, but the request was dismissed automatically when the PSC failed to act on the request within the required 20 days after the rehearing motion was filed.

SMROD's petition to rehear the case also cited Mississippi Power's last-minute lobbying efforts with the PSC in the hours before the commission approved construction of the line.

The company had solicited help from Gov. William Winter, Reps. G.V. (Sonny) Montgomery and Jamie Whitten, and business people in urging the commissioners to allow MPC to erect the line.

T. G. Landrum named Picayune Chamber prexy cock Bank's Picayune Branch. His wife is the former Joe Ree Womack and they are parents of two sons.

Landrum attended Mississippi State University and is a former president of the Picayune Lion's Club.

Serving on the board of directors will be William Clark, Tim Crowley, Charles Haynes, H.L. Holcomb, Mara McCardle, Clairborne McDonald IV, Doug McKellip, Gerald Patch, John Pigott, H.K. Rouse Jr., Cleon Stockstill and Grady Thigpen Jr.

Three arrested in burglary

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Three persons have been arrested in connection with the Sept. 1 burglary of Fahey Drug Company in Bay St. Louis, according to Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

Peterson said, "Samuel Jorden, 20, 103 Washington, St., Bay St. Louis is being held in the Hancock jail with no bond and is allegedly charged with the burglary of the drug store. He is under no bond because he was also in violation of his parole from Parchman from which he was recently released serving a term for burglary."

A juvenile has been charged with the burglary of the drug store and another juvenile has been charged with malicious mischief in connection with the burglary, Peterson reports.

The two juveniles have been turned over to the Hancock County Youth Court.

The investigation is being conducted by Hancock Investigator Delbert Seay and the Bay St. Louis Police Department.

MOTORBIKE RECOVERED

A 1982 Honda three wheel bike reported stolen from Herman Ladner of Bayside Park on Saturday was recovered at Biscayne State Park, according to Seay.

Assisting Seay in the recovery of the bike was the Waveland Police Department and an arrest is expected in the case.

PROPERTY RECOVERED

A Yamaha motorbike reported to be stolen from the Bob Fricke residence on Dec. 28, 1981 was recovered from a Springwood Park residence on Wednesday, according to Peterson.

The sheriff stated, "Dorance W. Meyers, 26, Rt. 2, Box 475, (Springwood Park), Bay St. Louis is lodged in the Hancock Jail in lieu of a $1500 bond after the missing bike was found at his residence in a search made by Investigator Seay and myself. Meyers is charged with the possession of stolen property."

Seay is in charge of the case with assistance from Hancock Deputy Dennis Tartavouille and he said more arrests were expected.

ARRESTED

A total of 23 persons were lodged in the Hancock County Jail over the three-day Labor Day weekend for alcohol-related arrests, according to the sheriff's docket.

The arrests were made by the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol, Bay St. Louis Police Department, Waveland Police Department and the Hancock County Sheriff's office.

New Bay water well to go on line

By BRENT MACEY

A new Bay St. Louis water well on Harry Street is expected to go on line soon, possibly as early as this Friday.

Water pressure, which has dropped considerably in some areas of the city in the past few weeks, should be restored to normal, according to Bill Johnson, utility department head.

The well should also offer some relief to other city wells which have all been pumping almost 24 hours a day since the beginning of July, he added.

Johnson attributed the lack of water pressure to the drop in the level of water in each of the two city water towers since the Leonhard Street well was taken off line several months ago.

"The water towers should be full to have peak water pressure," he said. But Wednesday morning he speculated the city's water tanks were only one-third to one-half full without the new well pumping.

When water pressure has been extremely low, usually between 5 p.m. and 8 p.m., the tanks have probably been almost empty, he noted.

At a Bay St. Louis Council meeting Tuesday, Johnson noted all lines on the new well have been connected and the well is ready to be turned on.

However, the city is now awaiting the State Health Department's analysis of a water sample taken Tuesday before the water line valves can be opened. Johnson, who stated he did not anticipate any problems with the water sample test, said he hoped the results of the sample would be known by Friday.

The council set a final inspection of the well for Friday at 9 a.m.

Johnson, project engineer James Chiniche and city officials would be present for the final inspection.

"We'll look it over and see if everybody is satisfied," he said.

If that criteria is met and if the samples have been returned from the board of health, Johnson said the well could be turned on Friday.

In other business at the Tuesday Council meeting, the council approved having all employees in the police and fire departments leave city vehicles at the stations after work, with the exception of the police and fire chiefs.

City Clerk Edward Favre said that policy was enacted by the mayor shortly before he was stricken with an unknown illness.

Bennett's office Wednesday reported the mayor is convalescing at home this week.

Also Tuesday, the council set Oct. 5, at 7 p.m. as the date to open bids on rehabilitation of seven more homes under the Housing and Urban Development 1981 Small Cities Project area of the city.

Houses being bid for rehabilitation include the home of Ethel Christmas on 669 Keller Street, the home of Althea

Curry on 430 Easterbrook Street, the home of Clara Fairconnetue on 401 Sycamore Street, the home of Ophelia Fairconnetue on 425 Sycamore Street, the home of Clarence Garrett on 525 Sycamore Street, the home of Henrietta Edwards on 607 Citizen Street, and the home of Margaret V. Farve on 526 Main Street.

Also at the meeting, the council:

—Approved adding a supplemental agreement to a contract with Southland Enterprises of Gulfport to have that company connect feeder lines to new gas mains in the Small Cities project area of the city to some 300 houses. The approval was contingent upon HUD's agreement to add the supplemental agreement to the contract.

—Tabled bids received on copy machines for both city hall and the Bay St. Louis Police Department.

NAACP to present redistricting plan

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Hancock County Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will present its plan for county redistricting at an Oct. 4 public hearing.

Chapter members attending a Tuesday meeting voiced objections to a proposed redistricting plan which the organization claims will dilute black voting strength in District Five.

Some 25 people attended the 1:30 p.m. public hearing conducted at the Hancock Courthouse Board of Supervisor's room.

Clarence Harris, chapter president and Thomas Clark, a member, and Rev. Bernard Keller, St. Rose de Lima Catholic Parish pastor, all primarily objected to District Five's present 1,036 black population being reduced to 243 in the plan prepared by Gulf Regional Planning Commission in Gulfport.

However, Jeff Taylor of GRPC noted District Four's present black population of 537 will be increased to 1,235.

He contended the GRPC plan is designed not to dilute the black vote and equalize populations in each district.

Taylor explained geographic limitations would not allow improved black voting strength in all districts.

He offered copies of GRPC maps and statistics to the NAACP so the group may formulate its own proposal for establishing district lines at the upcoming hearing.

The planner said the U.S. Justice Department requires that populations in each district not deviate more than seven percent.

Clark charged the proposed redistricting plan would eliminate any chance of a black being elected as a Hancock supervisor.

"Any black man can see what you are doing," he stated.

Taylor said he was not familiar enough with Hancock politics to adequately respond to Clark's allegations.

Walter Gex, County Board of Supervisor's attorney who presided at the hearing, reported the county must redistrict before 1983 countywide elections.

He noted citizens could contest the outcome of the election if the county is not redistricted before that time.

Gex said in such an instance, the incumbents would remain in office until a new election could be conducted.

Hilda Bourg, Diamondhead Community Association president, commended the redistricting plan because it placed the entire community in one district, District Three.

She said the new plan would allow one voting area for Diamondhead residents which would probably be the Club House.

But precincts which will be split in the GRPC proposal include North Bay, Courthouse, South Bay, Waveland, Kiln and Catahoula.

Terrell Randolph stated that County School District Board representative lines would have to vary from the GRPC plan because citizens in the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District (primarily consisting of Waveland and the Bay) can not vote for County School Board candidates.

Gex suggested the county school and supervisor boards seek legislation to allow different lines for the county school districts.

Citizens request no-wake area near mouth of Jourdan

By BRENT MACEY

Two different groups of Hancock County citizens approached the county Board of Supervisors Monday with petitions requesting an area near the mouth of the Jourdan River and adjoining canals be declared no-wake zones for boats.

Some 99 signatures accompanied a petition from residents in the Jourdan River Estates, which encompasses an area on the southern shore of the Jourdan River and includes several unnamed canals between Helen Drive, Edith Drive, Janelle Drive and Elaine Drive. Another petition from property owners just west of that subdivision directly across the Jourdan River from the Diamondhead airport also requested the Jourdan River in that area be declared a no-wake zone. That petition contained 10 names of property owners.

The supervisors do not have the authority to pass any ordinances, but the board agreed with the citizens request to send the petition to the Bureau of Marine Resources in Jackson for action.

Betsy Fields, from Jourdan River Estates, stated Wednesday that a group of citizens in that area want the no-wake zone established for safety and to prevent erosion which results from wave action against the shore.

She noted the canal bordering Helen Drive where she lives contains a blind intersection near an island in the canal. "We're trying to slow people down. It's a dangerous area," she said.

She noted swimmers also are endangered from passing speed boats which she claimed often travel between 25 and 30 miles per hour.

A.A. Green, a property owner in the area west of River Estates, noted he was more concerned with erosion.

He told the supervisors that he has no objection to speed boats pulling water skiers.

"It's the bigger boats up to 25 and 30 feet. They don't have to go 25 miles per hour. They leave a wake this high," he said while motioning with his hand at shoulder height above the floor.

In other business related to Jourdan River Estates, the supervisors agreed to set 20 miles per hour as the maximum road speed for all motor vehicles in that area.

In other business at the Tuesday meeting, the supervisors were informed by Larry Seal, county engineer with the engineering firm of Broadway and Seal of Picayune, that paving work on Beach Boulevard may begin Monday.

Seal estimated some $60,000 is available for the job.

In another unrelated matter, Seal recommended that Caesar Road be banked more steeply on a curve just prior to the Catahoula Creek Bridge.

At a previous meeting the supervisors requested Seal study the road to determine why so many accidents occur in that area.

Supervisor President A.A. (Dolph) Kellar said three people have died as a result of car accidents in that area and there must have been at least a dozen wrecks there in the past 10 years, he said.

Seal stated the road is safe at 30 miles per hour and can be traveled at 50 miles per hour during good weather conditions.

"I think the problem has been excessive speed," he said and recommended the outside edge of the curve be elevated instead of attempting to straighten the road.

In other business Tuesday, the supervisors:

—Accepted the low bid of $1,450 from Sanford Fire Apparatus Corp. of East Syracuse, N.Y. for five coats and five pants (suspenders included) for the Waveland Fire Department;

MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY VOLUNTEERS—Among the many persons in the Bay-Waveland area assisting the Waveland Civic Association in making collections for Muscular Dystrophy over the Labor Day weekend are, from left, Julie Lagasse, Ralph Peets, and Mickey Lagasse. Jimmy Lagasse Jr., president of the Waveland Civic Association and co-ordinator for the telethon, reported a total of $5,219 was collected through Wednesday morning in Hancock and West Harrison Counties. He said, "I wish to credit each and everyone for their help, especially the Scouts and the St. Clare's CYO. The telephone committee, the many collectors at the various businesses, and individuals helped sponsor the Muscular Dystrophy drive, as well as those making pledges—without their help, we would have never reached the amount collected." Paratroopers to invade BaySide Park Saturday

The 2nd Battalion, 20th Special Forces, Mississippi Army National Guard will be conducting a parachute jump operation at Bayside Park west of Waveland to allow Gulf Coast area residents to witness one of the missions conducted by the elite Special Forces soldiers.

The jump will be a 1:30 p.m. Saturday on the southeast corner of Bayside Park, with approximately 200 soldiers from units in Columbus, Hattiesburg and Jackson participating in this exercise.

The jump is a follow-up to a five-day recruiting drive in the Gulf Coast area which includes a Special Forces equipment and animal display at the Edgewater Mall in Biloxi.

The animals and reptiles are some of the types common in the areas where Special Forces troops conduct their unconventional warfare training.

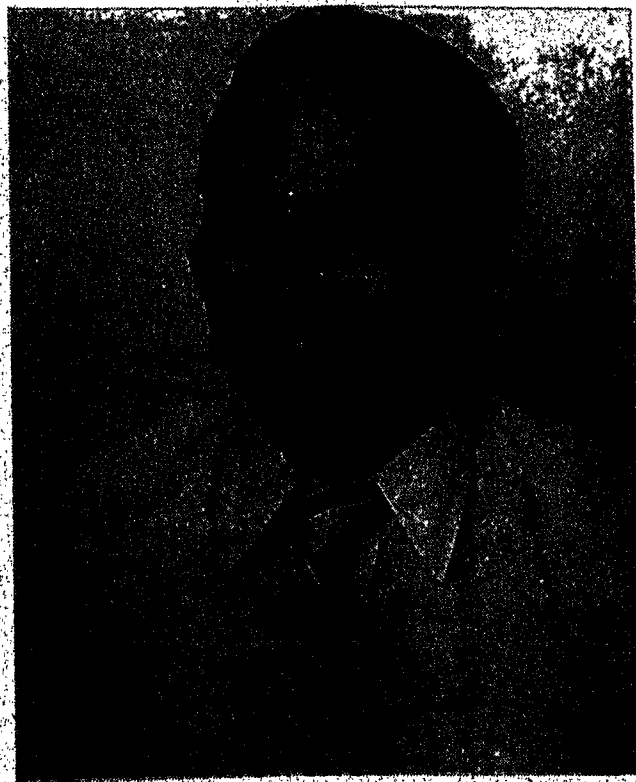

The display at Edgewater continues through Saturday.

BIG KICK-OFF—A large group of the officers, directors and helpers of the United Way gathered for a 'dutch treat' breakfast at the Landmark last week for the kick-off of the United Way of Hancock County's 1982 fund drive. The local group has set a goal of $40,000 and supports some 15 agencies. The agencies supported by the fund include, Hancock County Emergency Relief, Gulf Coast Mental Health Program, Mississippi Council of Epilepsy, Inc., American Red Cross - Hancock County Chapter, Hancock County Blood Bank, Senior Citizens Programs, Retired Senior Volunteer Program RSVP, Catholic

Social and Community Services, Salvation Army, Goodwill Industries, U.S.O. (Worldwide), Girl Scouts - Gulf Pines District, Boy Scouts - Cypress District, YMCA, and the Firemen's Doll and Toy Fund. The local drive receives support from individual gifts, payroll deductions, corporation gifts, business gifts and also from the Combined Federal Campaigns of federal employees living in our area. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

INFORMATION ON AGENCIES SUPPORTED BY THE UNITED WAY OF HANCOCK COUNTY

HANCOCK COUNTY EMERGENCY RELIEF FUND 467-5358

This Fund operates round the clock under the direction of the Clergy of Hancock County, to assist local and transient persons with emergency needs. Help is given in the interim period while awaiting assistance from other charitable and service organizations.

GULF COAST MENTAL HEALTH CENTER 467-1881

They operate two treatment centers in Hancock County, also conduct training school for developmentally disabled adults. Their services cover a wide range of assistance to persons of all ages whose lives are disrupted by mental and emotional illness.

MISSISSIPPI COUNCIL ON EPILEPSY, INC. 1-362-2761

Formed to help deal with problems of epilepsy, better the treatment and every day lives of those subject to some form of epilepsy. They also work to increase public knowledge of it's causes and effects. There are over 380 cases in Hancock County alone.

AMERICAN RED CROSS-HANCOCK COUNTY CHAPTER 467-4071

This disaster preparedness and relief program is always in readiness. They have spent millions of dollars in Hancock County following Camille, Betsy and other local disasters. Red Cross conducts classes in swimming, water safety and first aid. Round the clock assistance is given to those in the military forces, their families and to the veteran. They work closely with the Civil Defense Program.

HANCOCK COUNTY BLOOD BANK 467-4244

Since 1953 this important local organization has been working with our people to give blood, which is drawn and stored by Red Cross. Because of the work of this agency many lives have been saved. The Blood Bank keeps us aware of the need for donating blood, and the need is great.

RETIRED SENIOR VOLUNTEER PROGRAM - RSVP 467-9204

This very exciting and successful program channels the energy and experience of volunteers sixty years of age and older into activities which contribute to the life of Hancock County. Three hundred volunteers are now supplying urgently needed services in our Hancock County community.

CATHOLIC SOCIAL SERVICES 1-374-8316

Their social workers handle cases in the homes which involve the entire family, filling a great need in family counselling, family enrichment, marriage encounter, family relationship and human relations. They work extensively with the unmarried Mother, handle adoptions and provide foster homes for children. Their services are on a non-sectarian basis.

SALVATION ARMY 1-863-2355

For transients they provide overnight lodging, meals and clothing. Transportation is given to families in certain instances, and they are helped by counselling and referral. For local emergency needs, food, shelter and clothing is provided, and they also assist with medical prescriptions and other means of assistance.

SENIOR CITIZEN PROGRAMS 467-9291

The staff of this Multi-Purpose Center is there to assist Senior Citizens with their problems and help them to live more independent lives in their own homes. Among the programs provided are Day Care, Recreation, Transportation, Arts and Crafts, Education, Travel, Friendly Visitation, Hot Meals and Information and Referral. Because of the assistance being given our seniors many lives have been enriched and changed.

GOODWILL INDUSTRIES 467-7277

Their Bay St. Louis Store gives handicapped persons an opportunity for gainful employment. The organization is dedicated to the rehabilitation of physically, mentally and emotionally disabled persons. Your donations of good wearable clothing and repairable household goods fill a great need to those persons in the community who cannot afford to purchase new items.

U.S.O. (WORLDWIDE) (202) 862-0740

This organization provides a home away from home for military persons and their families. The small contribution we give them represents our share of financial assistance for the help they give our local men and women in the armed forces.

GIRL SCOUTS - GULF PINES COUNCIL 1-896-4047

There are seven thousand girls in the council, with 250 local girls in the seventeen Hancock County troops, under the leadership of 100 adults. The girls enjoy fun, fellowship and preparation for young womanhood. Camp "Ita Kana" provides wonderful weekend and summer vacations.

BOY SCOUTS - CYPRESS DISTRICT 467-6574

Boy Scouting is a character building preparation for adult life. It provides a boy with training, while he enjoys adventure, fun and companionship under father leadership. Hundreds of Hancock County boys participate in scouting throughout their growing up years. Their camp "Vee Bar" is one of the finest in the country.

YMCA 1-373-4100

Works to create, maintain and extend throughout the home, school and community, high standards of Christian Character.

FIREMEN'S DOLL AND TOY FUND 467-4736

At Christmas time each year our local firemen play Santa Claus to the needy children of the Waveland and Bay St. Louis area and local people in these two cities supplement the United Way contributions, to supply the funds. Merchants are most helpful, and RSVP volunteers assist with the preparations. In fact, this is a most joyful community project.

Thanks to you, our contributors, we are able to admit a new agency in 1982, the YMCA.

WHAT IS THE UNITED WAY OF HANCOCK COUNTY?

The United Way is a fund raising, service, information, communication and educational organization which belongs to the people of Hancock County. It is your instrument of local charity. It represents the fair share contributions of our people given in a single campaign to the organizations included in the Fund. Your United Way of Hancock County and it's agencies work on a day-to-day basis to assist our people with their human needs.

WHO OPERATES THE UNITED WAY?

A Board of Directors, all volunteers, selected by our contributors. The United Way of Hancock County is controlled and operated by it's own people.

FIRE DEPARTMENT VISIT—Participating in a recent fire safety and prevention demonstration by the Bay St. Louis Fire Department are Bay Catholic Elementary Kindergarten class

Hancock artist-instructor showing works at Bay library

Artistic works of longtime Hancock County artist Nel Ducomb are featured this month in a one-person exhibit at City-County Library on US-90 in Bay St. Louis.

Some 32 paintings including eight watercolor and 24 oil paintings by Ducomb are in the month-long showing in the library's Crawford Room.

Subjects included in the 32 works are historic Hancock homes, still lifes, landscapes, flowers, an angel and shells.

Ducomb teaches fine art classes in Kiln, Bay St. Louis and Gulfport, and is secretary-treasurer and graphics design director of Mississippi Monitor Publications, Inc. in Bay St. Louis.

She is also a board member and exhibit chairman of the Gulf Coast Art Association based in Gulfport and member of the St. Vincent de Paul Society of Annunciation Catholic Parish in Kiln.

The Jourdan River resident's works hang in collections throughout the United States.

Ducomb formerly was an illustrator with the Times Picayune newspaper in New Orleans and a free lance artist for high fashion stores in that city for many years.

She also was a founder and two-term president of the former Hancock County Art League, former vice-president and the first woman officer of the Hancock Chamber of Commerce, and former charter president of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Advertising Club.

Ducomb is the wife of Wayne P. Ducomb Sr. and they are the parents of three children and grandparents of three.

CITY-COUNTY LIBRARY EXHIBIT—Hanging an oil painting of the Mallini home on Jourdan River at the City-County Library's Crawford Room in Bay St. Louis recently is longtime Hancock County artist Nel Ducomb. She is the library's featured artist for the month of September.

GRE, ACT test reviews slated

Two standard tests for college and high school students will be offered at the University of Southern Mississippi on September 17-18.

The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) will be offered in a two day workshop.

Registration will be held from 12:30-1 p.m. Friday, Sept. 17. Classes will be held from 1-5 p.m. and 6-9 p.m. on Friday and from 8 a.m. until noon on Saturday.

The American College Test (ACT) for high school juniors and seniors will be offered on Saturday, Sept. 18.

For further information contact The Department of Conferences and Workshops, Southern Station Box 5056, Hattiesburg, Ms 39401 or telephone (601) 266-4189.

EFFORT AWARDS—Winners of Effort Awards for 1981-1982 at St. Clare Elementary School in Waveland include, from left, Tracy Wheeler, fifth grade; Tommy O'Brien, third; Joseph Dobson, first; Tammy Teese, second; Kristy Kidd, seventh; Stacy O'Brien, fourth; and not pictured, Matt Gray, sixth.

Alumnae Weekend planned

As part of the observance of the Women's Centennial at The University of Mississippi, Sept. 10-11 has been designated as "Alumnae Weekend" with several activities scheduled to honor Ole Miss women graduates.

At 11 a.m. on Friday, Sept. 10 there will be an Alumnae Convocation titled "The Ole Miss Experience." Distinguished Ole Miss alumnae will participate in a panel discussion on their years at the University and its effect on their lives and careers. Elise Varner Winter, Mississippi's First Lady, will moderate the panel.

The evening at 8 Dr. Hubert McAlexander will discuss the life of Sherwood Bonner, a late 19th century author from Holly Springs and protege of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. On Saturday Ole Miss alumnae will be honored with a 9-11 a.m. reception. All alumni and friends are invited to attend the occasion which will be hosted by The University of Mississippi Alumni Association.

Outstanding Ole Miss law professor elected

Karen Oakes Green, associate professor of law at The University of Mississippi School of Law, has been selected as the Outstanding Law Professor for the 1981-82 academic year.

Announcement of Professor Green's selection was made at the recent Law Awards Day activities at Ole Miss by Professor William Champion, the recipient of the award for 1980-81. Selection is made by the law school student body and presented annually to a member of the law school faculty in recognition of their outstanding contribution to legal education. The award is funded by the Law Alumni Chapter of the University of Mississippi Alumni Association.

After receiving the Bachelor of Science degree in mathematics from Ole Miss in 1971, Professor Green was employed by Union Planters National Bank of Memphis, Tenn., as an assistant corporate trust officer until 1972. She returned to Ole Miss and received her law degree in 1974.

Professor Green began her teaching career at Ole Miss in 1976 after receiving the LL.M. degree in taxation from New York University. She served as a visiting associate professor of law at NYU from September 1977 to May 1978. Professor Green has taught tax, estate taxes and wills and trusts at Ole Miss.

Along with Ole Miss law professor Don L. Fruge, Professor Green is co-author of "Estate Planning for Retarded Persons and Their Families," a manual on estate planning for the mentally retarded.

A native of Grenada, Professor Green is married to Grenada attorney John Green. They have a three-year-old daughter, Meredith.

News Brief

WILLIAMS GRADUATES
Auburn University will award some 806 degrees during summer commencement at Auburn at 2:30 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 27, bringing the year's total number of graduates on the Auburn campus to 3,953 and the total for all times to 103,241.

The Montgomery campus will separately award 182 degrees for this quarter for a total of 732 and for all time to 7,147.

Among candidates for the bachelor's degree from this area is Marion Kelly Williams Jr. of Kiln.

U.S. Coast Guard Academy opens entrance competition

The United States Coast Guard Academy has announced that it is now accepting and processing applications for appointment as Cadet, U.S. Coast Guard, Class of 1987.

Applications are being accepted from both men and women. Appointments as Coast Guard Cadets are tendered solely on the basis of an annual nationwide competition with no congressional appointments or geographical quotas.

Applications for appointment must be submitted to the Director of Admissions, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, prior to Dec. 15, 1982.

Candidates must arrange to participate in either the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Testing Assessment (ACT) prior to or including the Dec. 11, 1982 administration for the ACT and the Dec. 4, 1982 administration for the SAT.

Most successful candidates rank in the top quarter of their high school class and demonstrate proficiency in both the mathematical and applied science fields.

To qualify for the competition, an applicant must be unmarried at the time of appointment, have no legal obligations resulting from a prior marriage, and must have reached the age of 17 but not 22 by July 1, 1983. All applicants must be assured of high school graduation by June 30, 1983. Applicants must have completed three units in English, and three in mathematics to include algebra and plane or coordinate geometry or their equivalents, and must fulfill basic physical requirements.

Coast Guard Cadets obtain an excellent undergraduate education at no personal expense.

In addition, they receive pay and allowances fully adequate to fulfill their ordinary living expenses.

The constantly updated academy curriculum leads to a bachelor of science degree with a strong academic emphasis on engineering and science. The selected major studies, when combined with varied elective courses, establish a solid foundation for a challenging career. Graduates of the Academy are awarded a bachelor of science degree and are commissioned as ensigns in the United States Coast Guard.

Selected officers may pursue further postgraduate education and specialized training at many leading civilian and military graduate or professional schools, in such fields as aviation, business administration, electronics, engineering, law and oceanography.

The young Academy graduate can look forward to a varied, exciting, and demanding career as a regular Coast Guard officer. The Coast Guard performs essential humanitarian missions vital to the safety and savings of lives at sea.

Under the Department of Transportation, the Coast Guard establishes and coordinates search and rescue operations by ship and plane, maintains advanced electronic and other aids to navigation scattered around the globe, operates the icebreakers which clear the way for all polar expeditions, and enforces marine law and all aspects of merchant marine safety.

In addition, the Coast Guard has responsibility for boating safety and marine environmental protection.

Sigma Nu's national honors USM chapter

The Theta Gamma Chapter of Sigma Nu Fraternity at the University of Southern Mississippi recently received the "Education in Community Service Award" from the organization's national office.

In addition to various community service activities the Sigma Nus on the USM campus are known for their charitable efforts on behalf of St. Jude Childrens Research Hospital in Memphis, Tennessee.

For the past three years, the Brothers of Theta Gamma have participated in a 300 mi. run from the USM campus to the steps of St. Jude. The planning, solicitation of contributions and the logistics of the run required many hours of work and preparation. To date, $70,000 has been raised to offset the huge operating expenses of the Hospital.

For their efforts, the Sigma Nu chapter has received the personal praise of Danny Thomas, the founder of the Childrens Research Hospital. Theta Gamma, founded in 1968, was selected for the award from 200 national chapters. Plans are already underway to repeat the Memphis "run" and to repeat as the community services award recipient in 1983.

Equal gay rights

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF

By DAVID A. SELLERS
Copley News Service

The court is called on to decide if the Gay Activist Alliance is entitled to recognition at the University of Oklahoma.

Other courts have ruled that association activities need not be tolerated when they violate campus rules, interrupt classes or interfere with the opportunity of others to gain an education.

According to the group's president, the alliance was formed to help eliminate discrimination and affirm a positive self-image of the homosexual.

Colleges and universities are not immune from fire

Amendment protections of freedom of speech. The court has found that the Gay Activist Alliance is entitled to campus recognition. There is no evidence to show the group had been involved in disruptive or illegal activities.

The fact that the board of regents or other school officials may find the group repugnant does not preclude the alliance's First Amendment rights. Denial of recognition cannot be based on suspicion, unpopularity or fear.

The court concluded that the degree of effectiveness of an organization depends on its ability to communicate with potential members, raise money and make their presence known in the community. Interference with the process, no matter how subtle or indirect, is in violation of the Constitution.

Gay Activist Alliance v. Bd. of Regents of University of Oklahoma, 50 LW 2413 (Ok. Sup. Ct., 1981).

Sellers is currently court reporter for The Washington Times and former editor of the District of Columbia Bar Association newspaper.

Ole Miss reports $800,000 in July research grants

The University of Mississippi was awarded more than $800,000 from public and private agencies in support of research and educational activities during July.

Largest of the July grants was $150,000 from the U.S. Department of the Interior to the Mississippi Mineral Resource Institute for general operations under the direction of Dr. James Woolsey, acting director of the Institute.

The School of Engineering received three grants in July. The U.S. Department of the Navy made two awards to the electrical engineering department including — $96,789 for "Studies in Electromagnetic Scattering and Diffusion," directed by Dr. Wilson Pearson, associate professor of electrical engineering and $75,630 for "Electromagnetic Coupling to Structures Near Media Interfaces," directed by Dr. Chalmers Butler, Distinguished Professor of Electrical Engineering.

The electrical engineering department also received $47,992 from the National Science Foundation for "Electromagnetic Scattering by Inhomogeneous Dielectric Bodies of Arbitrary Shape." The National Science Foundation also gave $87,000 to the department of chemistry for "Application of Frontal Chromatography," under the direction of Dr. John Pacher, professor of chemistry.

The U.S. Office of Education gave $102,772 to the department of continuing education for "Upward Bound Program," headed by Maurice Inman, director of continuing education. The Small Business Development Center also awarded $30,000 to the continuing education department for "SBCD Training Conferences" also under Inman.

The School of Pharmacy received five grants including $72,871 to the Research Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences from Central Mississippi, Inc. for "Data Analysis for Community Control of Hypertension," under the direction of Dr. Tom Sharpe, associate director of the Research Institute.

The department of pharmacology was awarded

$50,001 for "Purification of the Sedium Channel by a Novel Approach Employing Membrane Fusion," directed by Dr. John Matthews, assistant professor of pharmacology, and $6,720 from the American Heart Association for "Diabetic Retinal Angiopathy," under Dr. Anthony Verlangieri.

The American Heart Association also gave $6,200 for "Cardiac Sodium Channels in Planar Lipid Bilayers," directed by Dr. Matthews. The department of physics was awarded two grants including $19,915 from the U.S. Department of Commerce. The project, "A Study of Severe Storm Electricity Via Storm Intercept Vehicle," is directed by Dr. Roy Arnold, professor of physics. The U.S. Department of the Army gave $14,000 for "Finite Amplitude Wave Propagation over a Porous Ground. Project director is Dr. Henry Bass, professor of physics.

The Center for Population Studies received $9,840 from the Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs for "Housing Conditions and the Small Cities Community Development Block Grant Program," and $8,000 for "State Data Center Program Support" from the Mississippi Research and Development Center. Both grants are under the direction of Dr. Max Williams, director of the Center.

Other July grants include $4,000 from the National Endowment for the Arts for "Southern Folk Music Recordings," directed by Dr. William Ferris, director for the Study of Southern Culture. The U.S. Forest Service awarded $1,350 to the premed office for "Student Work Agreement," under the co-direction of Dr. Hugh Bateman, assistant dean of liberal arts, and Dr. Douglas McClurkin, principle soil scientist with the U.S. Forest Service Hydrology Lab.

The John Davis Williams Library received $840 for "College Library Resources," under the direction of Robert Grey Cole, director of libraries. The Tennessee Valley Authority gave $1,690 to the department of health, DEBONAIR ASTAIRE—A very youthful Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers kick up their heels in the early days of their careers. A tribute to Astaire, including these early days, can be seen in "Change Partners and Dance" at 7 p.m., Sunday, September 12, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

Oyster cleaning is course topic

On Sept. 14-17, the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory will be the site of a Food and Drug Administration (FDA) sponsored training course entitled "The Sanitary Control of Molluscan Shellfish."

The course will be attended by sanitarians from the five Gulf states, plus Georgia and Maryland.

The GCRL staff members will assist FDA personnel in teaching the course.

Laboratory participants and their topics include William Demoran, shellfish biology; David Cook, shellfish purification overview of relaying and depuration; and Allison Perry, overview of EPA wastewater regulations pertaining to shellfish plants.

Thomas L. Herrington, with the FDA Atlanta office, is course director, and J. O. May, chief of the shellfish sanitation program of the Mississippi State Board of Health, is the moderator.

Others from the coastal area assisting with the course are Spencer Garrett, with the National Marine Fisheries Service, Pascagoula; James W. Blakeley, FDA, Biloxi; Anthony Taconi, State Board of Health; and Fred Deegan and Jim Handley, Mississippi State Bureau of Marine Resources.

Art series to be aired

Through a grant from the Mississippi Arts Commission, two instructional art series will be a part of Mississippi ETV's daytime in-school schedule this fall.

"The Art Chest" and "The Art Maker" (a new series for 1982-83) were leased by Mississippi ETV with funds provided by the Arts Commission.

"The Art Chest" is a series in arts and crafts for children in the primary grades. It is designed to emphasize creative expression while building the child's confidence and enjoyment in simple art projects. The series provides step-by-step techniques in drawing, painting, paper folding, paper cutting and sculpting.

"The Art Maker" is a series of arts and crafts lessons for children in the intermediate grades. This series develops skills in free brush painting, crayon drawing, designing, the use of chalk and charcoal, paper cutting and folding, printing, design and texture.

Noted art instructor Dan Mihuta is host for both series which are distributed by Western Instructional Television.

"We think this is a worthwhile endeavor - to be able to work with ETV on this type of project," Lida Rogers, MAC Executive Director, said. "We welcomed the opportunity and look forward to more."

"The Art Maker" will premiere September 14 and will air each Tuesday at 1 p.m. "The Art Chest" begins Sept. 16 and airs each Thursday at 1:30 p.m. Each week's lessons will be repeated on Fridays beginning at 1:15 p.m.

ETV plans to show both series in their entirety on Sept. 10 to enable teachers to record the lessons for play at future dates. The showings will begin at 8:30 a.m. and continue through 4:30 p.m. on that date only.

For more information, contact the Mississippi Arts Commission or the Mississippi Authority for Educational Television, both located in Jackson.

Lab reports summer enrollment figures

A total of 70 students completed marine science courses during the Summer Teaching Session at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory, and 31 students took a course both terms, bringing the total enrollment to 101.

Thirteen different courses were taught, seven during first term which began May 31, and six in the second term which ended Aug. 20.

Six Mississippi colleges and universities were represented by students the past summer, along with more than 18 out-of-state campuses.

A large majority of those taking the classes came from campuses that have a formal affiliation with the Laboratory to teach their students marine science; credits earned are automatically transferred to the affiliate institutions for inclusion on the students' academic records.

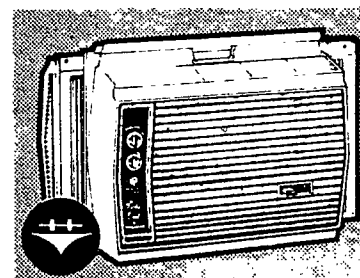

In addition to students from affiliated campuses, 12 who enrolled for summer classes were from out-of-state, non-affiliated institutions, many of whom also grant credit for the courses taught by the Laboratory.

Five of the summer students were engaged in individualized study, by enrolling in a special problems course or a special topics course.

Bay head coach contends

Friday Tiger, Pirate contest to be great spectator game

By BRENT MACEY
Friday night's high school football game between the Pass Christian Pirates and the Bay High School Tigers is expected to be a 'great' spectator's game, Tiger Head Coach Snuffy Smith predicted Tuesday.

Both teams appear to be equally matched, in terms of size and experience.

Smith noted the Bays' offensive will out-weigh the Pirates by only seven pounds.

Both teams have a strong running game, Smith stated. He noted Ben Field of the Pirates is a 'remarkable athlete' and he also complimented Pirate quarterback Jamie Jenkins and several other Pass running backs.

Judging from the Tiger's first game last week against Stone County, Bay High also has a powerful back field, with Harold Gillum, Mike Proulx and Charles Hawkins.

Smith noted Senior Doug Dickinson, who will be dressing for Friday's game after recovering from a shoulder injury, will be joining the Tiger back field.

"We're going to take the game to them," Smith said about his plans for Friday night.

"We're going to try to go straight at them. If that doesn't work then we'll go to the air or start around the end. But I think we are just as strong as they are," he said.

Smith noted the Tigers are coming off a victory last Friday against the Stone County Tomcats.

"We've got the confidence," he said. He noted the Pass lost its season opener to Vancleave last weekend by a score of 14-0.

Smith is hoping for a larger turnout this coming Friday as compared to the number of fans in attendance last weekend.

"To tell you the truth I was embarrassed when I looked up and saw more Stone County fans than Bay High fans," he said.

"If they (Bay High fans) need a special invitation I'd give them one, but I'd like to look up in the stands this Friday and see them packed."

"I know the Pass Christian side will be packed," he added.

Smith mentioned his appreciation for those Bay High faithful fans who did attend last week's game.

"I do want to commend those who did turn out last week. I'm just hoping I'll look up there this Friday and see twice as many."

doubt about it—they could wind up in the Apache Conference championship and District Eight playoffs," said Hawk Head Coach Irvin Favre. "But we're showing a lot of enthusiasm and hope to have a 2-0 record by the end of Friday night," the coach added. The Hawks defeated Forrest 21-19 last year. Forrest opened the current season with a 29-6 win over a strong West Marion last week. Friday's kickoff is slated for 7:30 p.m. (Echo staff photos by Edgar Perez)

Wildcats host Indians Saturday

Arban credits defense in 13-10 opening victory

Pearl River College will host Itawamba Saturday in the Dobie Holden Stadium.

Last Thursday the Wildcats upended East Mississippi 13-10 at Scooba. Itawamba opened with the Jones' Bobcats, losing 22-6.

"It will be just like playing ourselves," said J.C. Arban, the Wildcats head coach. "They run the wishbone offense and use a five-man front on defense."

Arban said the Indians are not as large as his 'Cats. "If (Mike) Easton (IJC's head coach) didn't send us the wrong information, their largest player is only 216."

The Wildcats and the Indians have not played since the 1979 season. In that ballgame Itawamba won 24-17. The year before PRC won 12-2. Overall the Wildcats have won 14 of the 19 games played between the two schools. One 1963 game ended in a tie.

"Eaton does a good job," Arban said. "They are very aggressive and quick." Eaton led the Indians to overall crowns in 1975 and '77, the only two state championships can boast.

In the game against East Mississippi, Arban played 43 of the 46 players he dressed for the contest. "Anytime you play with as many freshmen as we have and still win, you have to feel good," Arban said.

Defensively, the 'Cats hit hard and played hard. "As long as the defense plays as we did against East Mississippi, we'll win some ballgames," Arban said.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. It is the first of a five game home schedule.

OPENING WIN

In last week's event the offense sputtered and the defense bent but the Pearl River College Wildcats still walked away with a 13-10 win.

It was the season opener for both clubs and by no means was it a polished affair. The Wildcats fumbled seven times, losing three miscues and was intercepted twice. Several passes were dropped by Wildcat receivers.

East Mississippi didn't fair much better as Lion runners coughed up the pigskin three times and was also intercepted twice. The Lions also had two roughing the kicker penalties.

Pearl River got on the scoreboard first with a 10 yard scamper by sophomore Edward Holt of Poplarville. Tony Smith added the point after with 7:16 remaining in the first. The PRC touchdown was setup by a fumble recovery by Jeff Waits of Oak Grove.

The Wildcats had a chance to blow the contest open as East Miss fumbled the kickoff and a PRC man fell on it at the EM 8. The Wildcats returned the favor the very next play giving the Lions a breath of life.

East Mississippi tied things up with just 38 seconds remaining in the first half when the quarterback Oliver Tann passed 20 yards to Craig Thompson. Al Wright booted the PAT and the half ended in a deadlock.

PRC gave the Lions two gifts during their 77 yard march. At mid-field and on the third down, a pass interference penalty gave East Miss new life. The PRC defense held again only to fumble the punt. East Miss recovered at the PRC 23.

WINNING TOUCHDOWN

The Wildcats scored their winning touchdown on the first possession of the third quarter. Ed Holt was the man again as he leaped high over the middle for a one-yard six-pointer. Smith's try was wide to the left.

The big play of the 'Cats drive was a dramatic diving catch by James Jenkins at the three-yard line. The fourth down clutch catch was good for 24 yards.

East Mississippi tightened the gap in the fourth when Al Wright booted a 32 yard field goal with 12:33 remaining. That was only the beginning of the Lion's fourth quarter threats.

PRC forced the north division team to punt to the 48-yard line. Before the defense could take their helmets off, the offense had coughed up the ball again.

This time the Lions put together their best sustained drive of the night. Tann completed three passes down to the 15. Danny James immediately scooted to the one before being knocked out of bounds.

James got the call again, this time he netted a half-yard up the middle. Only 4:33 remained in the game when quarterback Tann juggled the ball from center and then linebacker Tommy Hillman roared through. He knocked the ball loose and defensive end Richard Hughes fell on it at the three.

The 'Cats pushed the ball out to the 15 before Scott Senner booted to the East Miss 48. Again the defense held and PRC took over on downs.

The win gave PRC a 21-7-2 record against the Scooba based unit. The 'Cats home opener will be Saturday, Sept 11 against Itawamba.

MSU making 'rare' home appearance

Campus football makes its debut in an entertaining way Saturday for Mississippi State as the Bulldogs host Arkansas State at 1:30 p.m. on Scott Field.

It marks the first of four on-campus appearances (the most since 1951) for the exhilarated Bulldogs, who chalked up a 30-21 victory over rugged Tulane at the Louisiana Superdome Saturday.

That triumph, State's 53rd against 26 losses and four ties in 83 opening games, was a satisfying one for the Bulldogs' staff because of offensive consistency.

MSU gained for 556 yards in total offense, the third-highest single game output in school history, to score the victory over Tulane, which had swamped LSU 49-7 in its last appearance at the Superdome in 1961.

"I thought we played the game excellently," Coach Emory Ballard said in his postgame comments. "We had great consistency on of-tense and played the kicking game extremely well, except for a fumbled punt."

MSU kicking specialist Dana Moore of Baton Rouge, La., celebrated the return to his native state by booming field goals of 29, 46, and 25 yards to provide the margin of victory for the sixth time in the last three years at MSU.

Moore tied the school record set on eight other occasions with the trio of three-pointers and also passed Kinney Jordan (1975-76) as the leading career field goal producer with 24 in 33 tries.

Quarterback John Bond of Starkville eclipsed his best passing yardage day by 69 yards as he completed 13 of 16 aeriels for 229 yards and a 58-yard strike for a score to Danny Knight.

Bond's 81.3 percent accuracy was also a career-best, and his top showing previously was a 160-yard throwing night against LSU in Baton Rouge last fall.

Those performances can be remembered for a short time, but the business at hand—Arkansas State—concerns the Bulldogs' staff at this point.

ASU, guided by fourth-year Head Coach Larry Lacey, also sports a Wishbone offense and can be one of the nation's most hard-nosed defensive teams when the occasion warrants.

The classic case in point came in 1981 when the Indians dropped a 17-16 heartbreaker to Kansas, which State later downed 10-0 in the Hall of Fame Bowl.

Lacey's forces are more experienced this fall and felt they turned the corner with a 6-5 mark last year. Included in that win total was a 31-7 walloping of Tulsa in the final game of the year, and the Indians also clobbered Northeast Louisiana 35-13 in the '81 opener. NELU battled Southern Mississippi well Saturday before losing 45-27 in Hattiesburg.

And pacing the discipline ASU triple option offense are fullback Maurice Carthon (676 yards on 153 carries and two TDs last year) and quarterback Tim Langford, who connected on 31 of 63 passes for 354 yards and three TDs.

Mississippi State hopes that the home field advantage will prevail as it did in 1981 when the Bulldogs kayped Vanderbilt 29-9 and Miami (Fla.) 14-10 when the Hurricanes were ranked eighth nationally. Having received votes in the preseason Associated Press poll, Ballard's group seeks to increase its mark to 2-0 for some future consideration. Four surveys, including a Camel cigarettes' ad in Sports Illustrated, placed MSU in the preseason Top 20.

CAGER CAMP

The University of Southern Mississippi recently held a Senior and Junior Level Boy's Basketball Camp.

Attending the senior camp from the Bay St. Louis area was Kris Geroux. Van Alstyne and Rhett M. Ladner of Pass Christian attended the junior camp.

GROVE PARKING

The University of Mississippi has established new parking rules that will affect football fans attending games in Oxford this fall.

As a continuation of the campus restoration and beautification project, parking in the Grove (adjacent to the Ole Miss Union) will be open to passenger cars only. Recreational vehicles, campers, trucks or vans should park in designated areas which include the School of Education parking lot on the west side of Taylor Drive and an area on the south side of the coliseum near the water tower. In addition, the Circle (adjacent to the Lyceum) has been permanently closed to all traffic.

Picnicking will be allowed in both the Grove and Circle, weather permitting, with tables provided at both locations. In case of rain, parking in the Grove will be closed to all vehicles.

Bay Area Soccer Club continues registration

The Bay Area Soccer Club this week is continuing registration for its 1982-1983 league action.

Youngsters between the ages five and 18 years are eligible.

Registration will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. each evening on the following dates: Thursday, Sept. 9, Bay Catholic Elementary's OLG Cafeteria.

Monday, Sept. 13, North Bay Elementary School.

Tuesday, Sept. 14, Gulfview Elementary School and Annunciation School.

Wednesday, Sept. 15, St. Stanislaus High School.

Thursday, Sept. 16, Hancock North Central High School.

Rocks practicing to beat the Devil(s)

By RANDY PONDER
The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will host the Pearl River Central Blue Devils in a Deep South Conference match-up Friday night at 7:30 p.m. Conference champions last year, the Blue Devils field a strong football team again this season.

"With seven starters back on offense and seven more on defense, they're gonna be tough," Rock head coach Vernon Powell stated. Pearl River Central operates out of the Wishbone and Power I formations. They were basically a run oriented team in 1981 but quarterback Jordan Robinson has been switched to the tailback slot and Chip Johnston has assumed the signal calling duties.

In last week 13-0 loss to powerhouse Poplarville, the times. "Stopping Robinson is the key to the game," Powell commented. "He's their horse, a speedy back much like Lydell Curry of Hancock."

Blue Devils put the ball up 20

QUARTERBACK WALTZ—St. Stanislaus quarterback John Killeen escapes from a Hawk defender in early action of last week's 33-20 loss. Killeen passed for one touchdown and ran for another but also threw five interceptions. The Rocks were forced to pass more than they wanted after falling behind and having to play catch-up football. (Staff photo by Randy Ponder)

TOURNAMENT SPONSORS—The Diamondhead Ladies Michelob Light Tennis Team is sponsoring a ladies doubles tournament Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 28 and 29 at the Diamondhead courts. Entry fee, which includes court fee, balls and lunch Thursday, is $30 per team. Entry deadline is Friday, Sept. 24. For information call Betsy Nolan at 255-7702 or Donna James at 255-3540. The sponsoring team members include, front from left, Marilyn Cuccia, Jinky Underwood, Sara Standridge and Nolan; and rear from left, Peggy Hector, Patty Hourin and Merry Montjoy.

Hancock Cable station to carry live boxing championship action

WTBS Hancock Community Cable Channel 7, will televise live the World Boxing Council Featherweight Championship fight Wednesday between Juan Laporte and Mario Miranda.

The winner of the fight at New York's Madison Square Garden will assume the title vacated by the recent death of Champion Salvador Sanchez.

Colombian-born Mario Miranda, the reigning America's champion, is the WBC's No. 1 ranked contender with an undefeated, 19-0 record, including 14 knockouts.

Juan LaPorte, whose home is New York City, is the North American Boxing Federation champion with a 21-3 record and 12 knockouts. He is the WBC's No. 3 contender.

In addition to the 15-pound championship fight, two other 10-round featherweight match-ups will be on the card. Jackie Beard, the WBC's No. 16 ranked contender with a 13-1 record and eight knockouts, is slated to meet unranked Edwin Rivera, whose record is 24-7 with 10 knockouts.

Beard resides in Detroit, while Rivera is from Hoboken, N.J.

The other preliminary bout pits Freddie "The Pebble" Jackson against Juan Veloz. Jackson, of Houston, is the WBC's No. 7 contender with a 20-2 record and 14 knockouts, while Veloz, of New York City, is 19-5 and unranked.

Air time will be 7:05 p.m., and calling the action will be announcer Skip Caray.

Don King Productions is arranging and producing the fight card.

Rugby season to open

Gulf Coast Greys Rugby Football Club kicks off its 1982 fall season Saturday at 1 p.m. at Jones Park in the Gulfport Small Craft Harbor, just off US-90.

The Greys ended their spring season last May with a record of 6 wins and 5 losses.

Over the summer the Greys conducted a comprehensive membership drive.

With added youth and determination the Greys are seeking to dethrone the reigning conference champions, the Jackson "High Country."

All home games will be played at Jones Park.

The second game of this fall schedule will be in Hammond, La. Saturday Sept. 18 where the Greys take on the Ruggers of Southeastern Louisiana University.

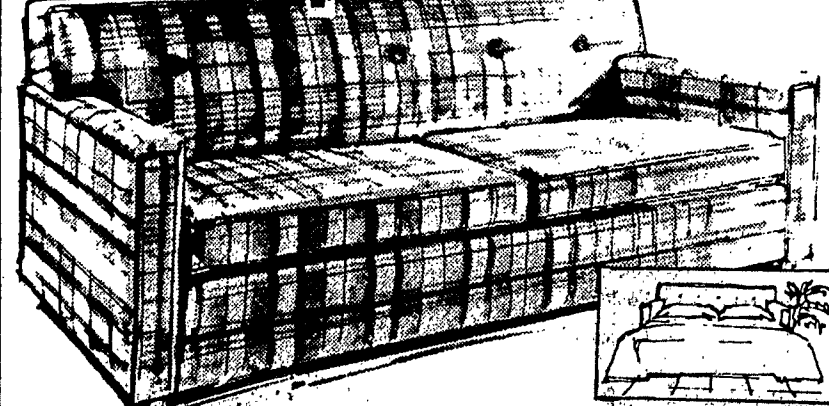

The Greys are sponsored by F&F Distributors of Biloxi.

Hunters urged to avoid shooting telephone lines

Hunting season is open again, and with it can come a unique problem for South Central Bell customers. That problem is the result of hunters shooting area telephone lines and cables.

Damaged lines hurt everyone, customers are without service. The company has expensive and time consuming repairs and sometimes the party responsible for the damage gets the bill.

"It's impossible to estimate the loss of business and inconvenience to our customers as a result of these accidents," said Don Roberts, District Manager, South Central Bell.

"We feel we can eliminate this problem if we make hunters aware of it."

So, please take careful aim before shooting, making sure there are no cables or telephone lines in your sights and keep the phones working.

Ten new series added by METV

Ten new instructional television series have been added to Mississippi ETV's daytime in-school schedule this school year.

Programs in art, health and safety, language arts, mathematics, music, science and social studies will be added, plus an adult education series to help persons prepare to take the General Educational Development (GED) test in order to receive the High School Equivalency Certificate.

In addition, all secondary films have been regrouped into series within each curriculum area, and a number of new secondary films have been added.

Two of the ten new series were produced by the Mississippi Center for Educational Television.

"Figure Out," a series of fifteen 15-minute programs for grades four through six, presents serious mathematical concepts within a lighthearted, humorous drama featuring a young computer whiz kid and her computer friend Mac. "Figure Out" can be seen at 10:45 a.m., Mondays, beginning Sept. 13, with rebroadcasts at 9:30 a.m., Thursdays.

"Edit Point," also produced by Mississippi ETV, a series of five 30-minute programs for grades seven through nine, is designed to improve writing skills.

Struggling to keep a New Orleans television station alive, three teen-age characters provide the dramatic framework within which the composition skills are presented. The lessons can be seen at 1 p.m., Mondays, beginning Jan. 24, 1983, with rebroadcasts at 2:30 p.m., Wednesdays.

"Readit," a series in reading motivation for grades three through five, can be seen at 9:15 a.m., Mondays, beginning Sept. 13, with rebroadcasts at 11 a.m., Thursdays.

"The GED Television Series" is designed to refresh viewers' skills in reading, English grammar and mathematics in order that they may be more likely to pass the General Educational Development test and receive the High School Equivalency Certificate. Two lessons can be seen weekly: at noon, Mondays and Fridays, beginning Sept. 13, with rebroadcasts at 4 and 4:30 p.m., Saturdays.

"American History Specials" is a series of reenactments of turning points in American history for high school students. The specials can be seen at 2:15 p.m., Mondays, beginning Sept. 13.

"Safety Sense," a series on everyday physical safety for junior and senior high school, can be seen at 11:05 a.m., Tuesdays, beginning Sept. 14, with rebroadcasts at 11:15 a.m., Thursdays.

"The Music Box," a series designed to increase viewers' sensitivity to music, can be seen at noon, Tuesdays, beginning Sept. 14, with rebroadcasts at 8:45 a.m., Thursdays.

The programs are targeted at grades one through three. "The Art Maker," a series of lessons in arts and crafts for grades four through six, can be seen at 1 p.m., Tuesdays, beginning Sept. 14, with rebroadcasts at 1:15 p.m., Fridays.

"The Body Works," lessons on physical fitness for grades one through eight, can be seen at 11:35 a.m., Thursdays, beginning Sept. 16, with rebroadcasts at 12:40 p.m., Fridays.

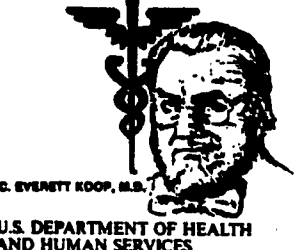

"The Search for Solutions," a series of nine 20-minute science programs for secondary school students, was broadcast on one day only in early September for teachers to record for later use in the school year.

All the films in the popular secondary film series on Mississippi ETV have been regrouped into series within each curriculum area. A number of new secondary films have been added.

SUCCESSFUL AUDITION—Gulf Coast Dance Theatre performer Lisa Montgomery of Diamondhead successfully auditioned for a two week workshop at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth. Classes were held daily in ballet technique, modern, character and pointe. Instructions and subjects included Fernando Schaffenburg, advanced ballet and character; Karen Schaffenburg, intermediate ballet and pointe; Jerry Bywaters Cochran and Ellen Page Garrison, modern. All resident instructors are on the faculty of the TCU dance department and the workshop was held in conjunction with the dance department's summer school program for college credits. Miss Montgomery is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Montgomery of Diamondhead. She is a junior at Bay Senior High where she is secretary of the Tiger Pride Band.

From the Surgeon General

By C. EVERETT KOOP, MD
This September, approximately 4 1/2 million children will file through the doors of public and private schools all across the country.

They will carry with them an enviable record. They are part of a generation of youngsters who have been so well immunized that they are seeing historically low numbers of vaccine-preventable diseases in their classrooms.

In 1981, fewer cases of measles, rubella (German measles), mumps, tetanus, and polio were recorded than ever before in our Nation's history. Reported cases of diphtheria and pertussis were near record lows. In 1982, these disease totals are expected to decrease even more.

This happy state was achieved only through the expenditure of great time and effort by numerous people involved in the immunization of our young people — educators, medical practitioners, public health staff, and especially parents.

School principals and local health agencies, placing increased emphasis on the enforcement of school immunization laws which cover, in some cases, children from ages 4 to 18, helped to assure that students preparing to enroll in school were protected against these once-common diseases.

In addition, standardized school health records for those already enrolled enabled school nurses to give this same assurance to the remainder of the student body.

Parents updated family medical records for preschoolers as well as adolescents to meet these expanded State school requirements.

Physicians were asked to complete copies of official State immunization record cards, administering additional doses of vaccine where necessary.

These efforts have won the initial skirmishes in the war against childhood diseases, but we cannot be satisfied with these successes. We have developed strategies, improved technology and worked through cooperation.

We have been successful, but further challenge is ahead of us.

Makes Measles a Memory
Perhaps the most serious of the vaccine-preventable childhood diseases is measles, also known as rubella, red measles and 10-day measles.

The serious complications of measles, such as pneumonia, blindness, deafness and encephalitis, may occur as often as once in every 1,000 cases reported to the Public Health Service.

In 1977, more than 57,000 cases of measles were reported. Last year, there were fewer than 3,000 cases — a sign that the national childhood immunization campaign is succeeding and a reason for medical experts to predict that in 1982 we may be able to eliminate measles as a homegrown disease in this country.

Health officials are now concentrating on protecting a very young and vulnerable group — those children under 5 years of age. Children in this group are often found at home with mother or with other youngsters at a day-care center.

These toddlers who spend their days in the home with a family member usually do so for continuing periods of months or years; there is no automatic annual reminder which brings immunization of the preschooler to the attention of the parents.

The same situation exists for those enrolled in day-care centers. Unlike older children, these youngsters frequently attend their "play school" every day all year long.

For these toddlers and their parents who work, there is no 3-month summer vacation which ends in September — the month in which preparations are made for the older child to enter a new classroom.

This, then, means there is no single traditional "season" of the year in which to immunize preschoolers.

Without the convenient reminders which are issued by schools and medical officials in this late summer season, some parents are inclined to let immunizations for this young group slide until they enter kindergarten, or until they are covered by the State school attendance law and immunization becomes mandatory.

During the months, or even years, when these preschoolers remain unimmunized, the disease-causing organisms continue to circulate. If a virus is unknowingly brought into a day-care center which has several youngsters who are still susceptible to these diseases, the result could be an epidemic.

Our national immunization levels for children entering school are now the highest they have ever been — most levels average over 95 percent.

When we reach these same high levels of protection in children ages 2, 3, or 4 years old, we will be able to say that childhood diseases will be on permanent summer vacation from school.

I urge you to be sure your children are properly immunized.

"Well begun is half done."

VA News

Q. Will the Veterans Administration treat Vietnam veterans who have health problems that they believe may have been caused by exposure to Agent Orange?

A. Yes. Under Public Law 97-72 passed last year, the VA can treat eligible veterans for certain disabilities which may have been caused by exposure to Agent Orange. Guidelines have been issued to all VA medical centers in order to implement this legislation.

Q. What is the difference between disability compensation and disability pension?

A. Compensation is paid to veterans with disability rated 10 percent or more which was incurred in or aggravated during active military service. Pension is paid to needy war veterans who are permanently and totally disabled from non-service connected causes prior to age 65 or who have reached 65.

Q. Are World War I veterans eligible for VA outpatient medical care?

A. Yes, all veterans of World War I are eligible for VA outpatient care for any medical disability while in an approved VA treatment program.

UM ARTIST SERIES

Season tickets are now on sale for the 1982-83 Artist Series at The University of Mississippi.

This season the series will feature six attractions including the leading performance by the jazz and popular music group "Woody Herman and The Young Thundering Herd" on Sept. 29. On Oct. 27 the Prague Symphony Orchestra will appear followed by a performance by pianist Andre-Michel Schub on Dec. 2. "Jack Daniels' Original Cornet Band" will bring the foot-stomping hand-clapping music of turn-of-the-century small town bands to campus on Jan. 12 and on Feb. 16 "Mummenschanz," a mime troupe from Switzerland, will perform. The season finale will be by the colorful dance troupe "Ballet Folklorico Nacional de Mexico" on April 5.

Prices for the entire series packet are $15 for adults and $8 for children under 12. This is a 50 percent savings over the purchase of individual tickets which are $5 for adults and $3 for children per performance.

STONEWARE
FREE!

ON OUR PLAN

Save up to $80 on a
32-Piece Service for 8

- Oven-to-table convenience
- Microwave, freezer and dishwasher safe
- Mix or match the two charming patterns

Now... let the whimsical appeal of fresh strawberries create a feeling of festivity for your family or guests. Ideal for casual or formal dining, this fine dinnerware is as practical as it is pretty. Versatile stoneware goes directly from freezer to oven to table, allowing you to prepare and serve your favorite meals with ease. Pop it right into the dishwasher without worry and the stoneware comes out sparkling clean. What's more, the colorfast strawberry patch motif won't ever wash, wear or scrub off. The bright flourish will always maintain its shiny lustre, lending a quaint and cheery atmosphere to every dining occasion.

Strawberries 'n Cream features two complementary patterns. The graceful "Strawberries" design is available in dinner plates, salad plates and cups. Or, the "Cream" pattern, with classic brown band, adding a touch of class to plates, its cups and serving pieces. Mix or match the entire set to create the ultimate in contemporary dinnerware.

Jaycees sponsoring festival in Alabama's newest park

The Jubilee Jaycees are sponsoring for the third consecutive year the Blakeley Bluegrass Festival to be held at Historic Blakeley Park, Saturday, Oct. 2.

Blakeley is in Baldwin County where the Tensaw and Blakeley Rivers join. Blakeley's 3,800 acres make up the largest site on the National Register of Historic Places east of the Mississippi River.

Blakeley, Alabama's newest state park, covers four historical time frames, the first of which was thriving, prehistoric Indian civilization dating back at least 4,000 years.

The Apalachee Indians lived here between 1700-1800. They were civilized, Christianized and an educated nation of Indians.

The original old town of Blakeley was an early Alabama seaport town of the federal period. Chartered by Josiah Blakeley in 1814 and settled by New Englanders, Blakeley's growth was a dominating factor in the first 10 years of Alabama state history.

Confederate and Union soldiers fought the last battle of the Civil War here in the spring of 1865. Miles of visible breastworks, batteries, rifle pits and redoubts as well as the earthen Fort Blakeley remain.

The Historic Blakeley Authority was formed in 1976 to preserve and redevelop for the public a unique, living park where visitors may enjoy the natural beauty and see the four historic periods depicted.

Historic Blakeley is located in Baldwin County four miles north of Spanish Fort on Highway 225.

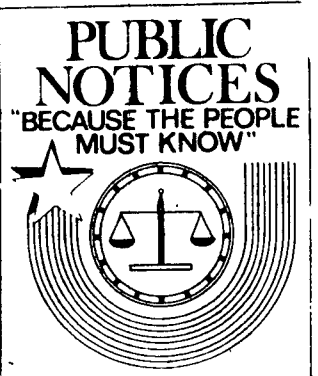

Tickets to the annual Blakeley Bluegrass Festival are $6 for adults; children under 12 will be admitted free. Tickets can be purchased the day of the festival.

Attendance is expected to top the 1,200 which attended the first Blakeley Bluegrass Festival in 1980. This year's festival will be held from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and will feature live bluegrass music, food, cold beverages, souvenirs, and entertainment, including a buck dance contest.

Among bluegrass bands to perform are White Sands Panhandle Band, Cecil Raybon and Eastern Shore Bluegrass Band, Skunk Posey and Styx River Band, and Muscogee River Girls.

Proceeds from the festival will go to the Historic Blakeley Authority to aid in restoration efforts of the old town site.

The Jubilee Jaycees, dedicated to promoting and enhancing Alabama's early development, are young men from the Eastern Shore working to promote Alabama's resources and helping to inform all Alabamians of their heritage and its uniqueness to Alabama.

IN THE CHANCERY COURT HANCOCK COUNTY MISSISSIPPI BARBARA JANE SETTLE, Plaintiff versus MARVIN E. SETTLE, Defendant.

SUMMONS CASE NO. 16,102

TO: Marvin E. Settle, whose last known address was Melbourne, Florida; but whose present residence and address is unknown. You have been named Defendant in the lawsuit filed in this Court by Barbara Jane Settle, Plaintiff, whose address is Highway 90, West, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi 39520.

The Complaint filed against you has initiated a civil action alleging cruel and inhuman treatment and seeking a divorce.

You are required to mail or hand deliver a copy of a written Answer either admitting or denying each allegation in the Complaint to William H. Stewart, Plaintiff's Attorney, whose address is 146 Main St., Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi 39520.

YOUR ANSWER MUST BE MAILED OR DELIVERED NOT LATER THAN THIRTY DAYS AFTER THE 23rd DAY OF September, 1982, WHICH IS THE DATE OF THE LAST PUBLICATION OF THIS SUMMONS. IF YOUR ANSWER IS NOT SO MAILED OR DELIVERED, A JUDGMENT BY DEFAULT MAY BE ENTERED AGAINST YOU FOR THE MONEY OR OTHER RELIEF DEMANDED IN THE COMPLAINT.

You must also file the original of your Answer with the Clerk of this Court within a reasonable time after said date.

Witness my signature and official seal this 9th day of September, 1982.

E. Michael Neacise Clerk of Court By Vickie Walsh, Deputy Clerk 9-9; 9-16; 9-23-82

Commission orders baby rattle recall

In 1978, the Consumer Product Safety Commission banned rattles that could become caught in infants' throats and cause choking and suffocation.

The ban was issued when the commission became aware of 10 fatalities and 19 choking incidents since 1943. Recently, the commission has found some banned rattles being sold.

In cooperation with the commission, two firms, The Montgomery Schoolhouse, Inc., Montgomery, Vt., and Schwanek of America, New York, N.Y., have agreed to voluntarily recall banned rattles.

Consumers are asked to remove these rattles from use immediately.

The Montgomery Schoolhouse, Inc. is recalling approximately 61,000 baby rattles. The toys were sold since September, 1981.

To date there have been no reported injuries involving Montgomery Schoolhouse rattles.

The rattles are made of hardwood. Some have colored parts and some have clear varnish finish. Three of the seven designs recalled have metal bells enclosed in hardwood cages.

Some of the rattles were sold in "blister" packages with the words "RATTLE, Heirloom Quality, Hardwood, Childsafe Color" printed on the face.

Some were sold in plastic bags with a paper insert which said "Finest Handcrafted Wooden Toys from Vermont" and the names "TT Bell Rattle" or "TT 5 Disc Rattle." Others were sold without packaging.

Consumers should return the rattles to the retailer where they were purchased in exchange for rattles that meet the federal safety requirements. Or consumers may return the rattles directly to the Montgomery Schoolhouse, Inc., Montgomery, Vermont 05470, for exchange.

Retailers are asked to remove these rattles from sale immediately and return them to the Montgomery Schoolhouse, Inc. in exchange for rattles in compliance with federal regulations.

Schwanek of America, New York, N.Y., is recalling approximately 2,900 wooden baby rattles imported since 1981. To date there have been no reported injuries involving Montgomery Schoolhouse rattles.

The rattles are No. 10875/2, a duck on a handle; No. 10876/33, dumb bell shape; No. 10876/17, bowling pin; 10876/3, dumb bell shape with pieces of wood on the shaft; No.

10876/26 bar bell with 4 wooden rings on the shaft; No. 10876/8 handle with head and arms; and No. 10876/19 cylinder with six holes and bell inside.

Consumers should return these rattles to the place of purchase for refund or exchange. Consumers can also return the rattles directly to Schwanek for a refund.

Retailers are asked to remove the rattles from sale immediately and return them to Schwanek for exchange or credit.

New Orleans Ballet tickets available

The season ticket deadline for the New Orleans Ballet's 1982-83 season has been extended to Sept. 15, according to Peter Anderson, the company manager.

The ballet company is also offering patrons the opportunity to purchase season tickets after the season's opening performance on Sept. 18. According to Anderson, any person who purchases a ticket to the first performance and then decides to buy a season ticket can have the price of the ticket credited toward the purchase of a season ticket. Patrons should save their ticket stubs to the first performance, he adds.

The New Orleans Ballet, the resident ballet company of the University of New Orleans, is entering its second season as a professional ensemble. The Company will be offering five programs during the season, including three full length ballets, "Coppelia," "Swan Lake," and the lavish holiday classic, "The Nutcracker." All performances are in the New Orleans Theatre of the Performing Arts.

The opening performance will include three revivals: Hysell's "Romantic Reflections," music by Glazunov; Will Eldridge's "Acadian Passage," music by Ravel and Debussy; guest choreographer Stephen K. Simmons' "Solstice," music by Michael Oldfield, and the "Coraire" Pas de Deux.

The company's full-time performers number 10, with six other members alternating in principal-dancer duties. Principals Monica Mudgett, Duncan Vere Schute, Mark Mejia and Linda Kintz will appear in the opening program.

Despite the fact that the New Orleans Ballet has added one major presentation to its season this year, for a total of five, the cost of season tickets remains the same as last year, says Anderson. Season ticket prices range, he adds, from $32 to $80 and group discounts are available for the parquet, first and second balconies.

For ticket information and/or subscriptions, call 895-2439.
